CELLAR <sup>HDP</sup>

High Definition Porcelain

shown on front: 34310 8x36 Bleach

Inspired by planks found in an abandoned factory floor in Northern Italy, Florida Tile's Cellar<sup>HDP</sup> perfectly captures the rich character of vintage boards. Rooted in history, these planks show the patina of heavy use by people, machinery, chemicals, and water for a unique rustic yet modern appearance. Cellar<sup>HDP</sup> is as well suited for an industrial chic loft as it is for a farm-to-table restaurant.

A natural palette of bleached greys, aged charcoal, rich mocha, and warm honey brown allows you to create a floor that is exceptionally expressive. The timeworn surface texture and great variety of color tones make this line a bold statement in style. With industrial heritage and an ultra-natural look and feel, Cellar<sup>HDP</sup> is as comfortable with forged steel, aluminum, and exposed brick, as it is with hand-hewn beams.

Available in 8x36 plank format, a generous herringbone mosaic and a modern stack mosaic, Cellar<sup>HDP</sup> combines the look of reclaimed wood using advanced HDP—High Definition Porcelain® printing technology with the technical performance of porcelain.

Cellar<sup>HDP</sup> is appropriate for most applications in both residential and commercial settings. It is entirely made in the USA in our Green Squared® certified Advanced Manufacturing Center in Lawrenceburg, KY. It contains pre-consumer recycled content and is GREENGUARD® and Porcelain Tile certified.
